Don McPhail : A Father's Cry - My Fight for Justice before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Father's Cry - My Fight for Justice:

0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. wasn't proof-read..and how can a guy be soooo dumb!!!By Pat Dahmilliterate stupidity.....learned nothing helpful....repeated mistakes glaring mistakes in spelling and grammar....spare me trashed it! what did he expect from his stupidity3 of 5 people found the following review helpful. Author planting fake reviews all over !By Carl RoveDon't fall for all the silly fake reviews recomending this book all over ! Certainly planted by the author! This ploy has been tried so many times and it only clogs up the review system with Junk schilling. I hate this practice it ranks up there with Junk Email and telemarketers! I would never buy this book now and it might be good, but the author has lost my trust when he will write fake reviews! 1 of 4 people found the following review helpful. It's about time!!! By Customer Finally someone is letting the rest of the world know how difficult it is for non-custodial fathers, especially here in Minnesota! Too many times non-custodial fathers are branded with a certain negative stereotype, but NO MORE! Don shows that the system isn't always fair, even though it claims to be!!! Thanks, Don, for telling it like it is!

The book is about many things, and it is about one thing. The focus is on love. It's about love and how important it is in being able to raise your children equally. The court places a father's worth as nothing more than a cash machine. Dad's are eliminated from their children's lives and portrayed as "Dead Beats" when in fact many become "Dead Broke" fighting for their rights. Court's portray men wanting equal time as someone who only wants to lower child support. Is it a sin that a loving father wants to spend more time with his child than every other weekend. But a mother who calls and ask a father for money for her child's dental surgery than uses it for a Breast Enlargement has done nothing wrong as in my case. What we have is a system that was supposed to help children that has gone bad! It has become so bad that this year alone 18,000 men have committed suicide dealing with domestic disputes and family court issues. So this is my fight to help change the system for the future.
