Robert Force, A. N. Yiannopoulos, Martin Davies : Admiralty and Maritime Law Volume 1 before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Admiralty and Maritime Law Volume 1:

0 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Very new and well printed By Tongtong Wu As a paperback book, it was delivered in good condition without damage. Papers are of good quality and the printing is very clear. It's a thick book that the reading load is really huge! 0 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Good Used Copy By norman s This is a very good condition copy of to to a classic book. Will use this vendor in the future when I need the other titles in this collection. 0 of 2 people found the following review helpful. good condition By Lauren Good condition, sadly did not realize that this was not the one I actually needed, need the 2012. So now need to get another one.

This is the 2012 edition of Volume 1 of the definitive work on admiralty and maritime law by three of the leading professors in the field.

About the Author Robert Force, Niels F. Johnsen Professor of Maritime Law and Director Emeritus, Maritime Law Center BS, 1955, LLB, 1958, Temple University; LLM, 1960, New York University Professor Force clerked for state and federal judges in Pennsylvania, practiced law in Philadelphia, and taught law at Indiana University before coming to Tulane in 1968. He teaches courses in admiralty and criminal law. Professor Force was named special master to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana for a major case involving conditions in the Orleans Parish Prison. His current research activities are largely in the area of admiralty and maritime law, but he has co-authored the Louisiana Code of Evidence as well as numerous articles on maritime law. Professor Force and his colleagues, Professor Yiannopoulos and Professor Davies, have co-authored two course books used in Admiralty I and II. Professor Force is currently revising two well-known admiralty texts, Norris on The Law of Seamen I and Norris on The Law of Maritime Personal Injuries. Professor Force is director of the Maritime Law Center and holds the only endowed chair in maritime law in the United States. He was Acting Dean from 1977 through 1978. In 2001, Professor Force was honored by the Seamens Church Institute as a maritime law legend and received its Distinguished Maritime Law Award. In 2002, he was honored by the President of Panama, who designated him a member of the Order de Vasco Nunez de Balboa. In addition, Force has authored well over thirty books on admiralty as well as criminal law and countless other essays and teaching materials.
