Hilary Patrick, Nicola Smith : Adult Protection and the Law in Scotland before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Adult Protection and the Law in Scotland:

Adult Protection and the Law in Scotland is an indispensable resource for professionals trying to navigate the increasingly complex framework of adult protection law and practice. Expert guidance is given on the provisions of the Adult Support and Protection (Scotland) Act 2007 in the context of the existing statutory framework, including the Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000 and The Mental Health (Care and Treatment) (Scotland) Act 2003. The impact of human rights law is also considered. The legal framework for protecting adults at risk is complex. This practical guide offers clarification on this complexity with appropriate examples wherever possible. It identifies and advises on the dilemmas and difficulties faced by professionals working in the area of adult protection.

About the Author Hilary Patrick is an Honorary Fellow in the School of Law at Edinburgh University. She is vice convener of the Law Society's Mental Health Disability Committee and is a former legal advisor to The Scottish Association of Mental Health. Nicola Smith is a Solicitor at ENABLE Scotland.
