FINALLY, A BOOK ABOUT ADVOCACY WRITTEN FOR AND BY ADVOCATES

In this important book, Joni Aldrich and Chris Jerry describe what it is like to lose a loved one because of a medical illness and the all-too-frequent hazards of our medical care system. Impressively, they have channeled their pain into a series of lessons to help others who -- like them -- wish to use their experience to try to improve the healthcare system. Their strength, wisdom, and courage are remarkable, and their book will be an essential guide to others who wish to follow a similar path.
