Her knowledge and passion is second to none. This is a must read for all pet parents, pet advocates and other estate planning or elder care attorneys who are advising their clients.4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Don't leave your pet home without (reading) it.By BPThis is a must read for anyone with a pet or anyone who knows anyone who has a pet. It is easy and fun to read and has so many tips and pointers that you will want to read it again and again. Peggy is a great writer and her passion for our animal friends comes out. You won't be able to look at your cat or dog (or ?) in the eyes if you haven't done the homework suggested by Peggy. I endorse this book without reservation.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Four StarsBy joann k williamsGood book to buy for estate planning involving pets. Well worth the money

How to leave a legacy for your pet. Animal companions... your pets... "your children." Whatever you call them, they are dearly loved family members. Our pets come to us from rescue shelters, from pet stores, from breeders, and from friends and family. Our pets come in all shapes and sizes - from horses to hamsters, from ferrets to felines - they inhabit our hearts with their own unique personalities. They share day-to-day struggles, adventures, special moments and play times with us. We share our homes, our beds and our hearts with our pets. We worry about our pets, too, just like our children, when they are not with us. They leave us with a legacy of happy memories after they're gone. Our pets love us unconditionally, help reduce stress and even enhance longevity. For all these reasons and so many more, you should explore all the alternatives for planning for your pet's future without you and for your future without your pet. This book is for anyone who has ever loved a pet and wondered what he or she would do if their pet were no longer with them or what their pet would do if they were no longer there.

From the AuthorI have always loved pets. My dad, John A. Hoyt, was the President and CEO of The Humane Society of the United States while I was growing up. I was always around animals and the legal issues related to animals. I advocate for spaying and neutering your pets as well as creating estate plans that contemplate what will happen to them if something happens to you.About the AuthorPeggy is a founding partner of The Law Offices of Hoyt Bryan, a family wealth and legacy planning law firm specializing in wills, trusts and estates and elder law. She is a three-time Stetson University graduate receiving her B.B.A., cum laude, in 1981, her M.B.A. in 1982 and her J.D., cum laude, in 1993. Her passion is her pets - all of them - including 3 horses, 5 dogs and 4 cats! She enjoys competitive trail and limited distance endurance riding. Peggy practices in the areas of family wealth and legacy counselling, including trust and estate planning and administration, elder law, small business creation, succession and exit planning, real estate transactions and animal law. In addition to her law degree, she holds a Florida real estate license. Peggy formerly held a NASD Series 7 license and health, life and variable annuities licenses. She serves as a certified FINRA Arbitrator and is also a Florida Circuit Court Mediator concentrating in family business and estate matters. Peggy holds Board Certifications from the Florida Bar in Wills, Trusts, and Estates and Elder Law. Peggy and two friends, Kim Radcliffe and Casey Taylor have recently founded the Center for Animal Advocacy, a Central Florida law firm dedicated to legal issues related to animals and the people who love them.
