whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Article 6: the Right to Life, Survival and Development: The Right to Life, Survival (Commentary on the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child):

This volume constitutes a commentary on Article 6 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child, guaranteeing the right to life, survival and development. It is part of the series, A Commentary on the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child, which provides an article by article analysis of all substantive, organizational and procedural provisions of the CRC and its two Optional Protocols. For every article, a comparison with related human rights provisions is made, followed by an in-depth exploration of the nature and scope of State obligations deriving from that article. The series constitutes an essential tool for actors in the field of children's rights, including academics, students, judges, grassroots workers, governmental, non- governmental and international officers. The series is sponsored by the Belgian Federal Science Policy Office.

"I can recommend this booklet, and I hope I find other volumes in this valuable series as stimulating. It is a well-timed initiative and the General Editors and publishers are to be congratulated on the commencement of a most significant project." Michael Freeman, "The International Journal of Children's Rights," volume 14 (2006). I can recommend this booklet, and I hope I find other volumes in this valuable series as stimulating.
