From Reference Press : Children's Rights as Basic Human Rights: Sensitization of Stakeholders before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Children's Rights as Basic Human Rights: Sensitization of Stakeholders:

Children are valuable assets to the nation of India. India's children are the citizens of tomorrow and their role in nation building should not be underestimated. With this in mind, India's central and state governments are monitoring the issues of child welfare and are enacting laws for the betterment of children, including a three year plan that has been implemented by the Indian Council for Child Welfare. This book - an outcome of a two day national seminar held in March 2007 at Vellalar College for Women (Erode, Tamil Nadu, India) - focuses on the following areas: --- children's rights as human rights --- infanticide --- children and education --- child labor and juvenile delinquency --- the Child Protection Right and the Integrated Child Development Scheme --- healthcare programs for children
