

Climate Change Liability: Transnational Law and Practice

*From Brand: Cambridge University Press
ebooks | Download PDF | ePub | DOC | audiobook

Download

Read Online

#4432332 in Books Cambridge University Press 2012-01-16 Original language: English PDF # 1 8.98 x 1.30 x 5.981, 2.40 #File Name: 1107673666690 pages | File size: 50.Mb

From Brand: Cambridge University Press : Climate Change Liability: Transnational Law and Practice before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Climate Change Liability: Transnational Law and Practice:

As frustration mounts in some quarters at the perceived inadequacy or speed of international action on climate change, and as the likelihood of significant impacts grows, the focus is increasingly turning to liability for climate change damage. Actual or potential climate change liability implicates a growing range of actors, including governments, industry, businesses, non-governmental organisations, individuals and legal practitioners. Climate Change Liability provides an objective, rigorous and accessible overview of the existing law and the direction it might take in seventeen developed and developing countries and the European Union. In some jurisdictions, the applicable law is less developed and less the subject of current debate. In others, actions for various kinds of climate change liability have already been brought, including high profile cases such as Massachusetts v. EPA in the United States. Each chapter explores the potential for and barriers to climate change liability in private and public law.

'... the book is well written and provides an enormous amount of information concerning major policy and legal developments in relation to climate change liability in each country.' Radoslaw Stech, Journal of Environmental Law

About the Author Jutta Brunne is Professor of Law and Metcalf Chair in Environmental Law at the University of Toronto. Silke Goldberg is a Paris-based senior associate in Herbert Smith's global energy practice and a research fellow in energy law at Rijksuniversiteit Groningen, The Netherlands. Richard Lord QC is a London-based commercial litigator with over twenty-five years' experience, particularly of international disputes in the Commercial Court and in arbitration, and with a particular interest in private law aspects of climate change. Lavanya Rajamani is a Professor at the Centre for Policy Research, New Delhi, where she writes, teaches and advises on international environmental law, in particular international climate change law and policy.