His compilation of over 100 newspaper articles he has written gives short but complete coverage (2-4 pages each) of a wide range of topics. Written in plain English, not legalese, is a big plus. It is specially adapted to Florida residents but would be valuable for anyone. Highly recommend it.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Four StarsBy PatInformative and easy to read and understand.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Excellent material!By Larry McBeeEasy to understand and answered many question that are important.

About the AuthorCraig R. Hersch is a Florida Bar Board Certified Wills, Trusts Estates attorney who is also a Certified Public Accountant (CPA). His law practice is based in Fort Myers, Florida, where he manages an extensive client base consisting of wealthy retirees, individuals, families and business owners throughout the state. He has developed several unique estate planning processes, including The Family Estate Legacy Solution that you can find on his firms website www.sbshlaw.com. Craig has published professional articles in various trade journals, including The Practical Tax Lawyer, The Florida Bar Journal and Estates Trusts Magazine. He prides himself, however, on his down to earth attitude and ability to communicate complex legal and tax solutions in language that his clients understand. Since 2004 he has written an estate planning column in Sanibels The Island Sun weekly newspaper. His firms website features videos and webinars of Craigs client presentations, including Florida Residency Estate Planning, What Your Adult Children Need to Know About Your Estate Plan; The Perils of Joint Accounts; Legal Matters When a Loved One Dies; and Who Does What in Your Legal Documents if You Become Incapacitated. These are all part of Herschs trade-marked Family Estate Legacy Series. His middle-class, no-nonsense background comes through in almost everything that Craig does. Because of financial difficulties his family experienced at the time, Craig worked part-time jobs and took out student loans to put himself through the accounting (BS 1986 MS 1987) and law programs (1989) at the University of Florida. After graduation, Craigs career began at Deloitte Touche in their Atlanta and Tampa offices. Craig and his wife, Patti then discovered paradise in Southwest Florida, where they have resided since 1990. He joined his current law firm in 1992. When not practicing law Craig enjoys adventure travel as well as competing in triathlons, including Ironman distance races. He can also be found cheering on his beloved Florida Gators on fall Saturdays and during basketball season. Craig and Patti have three daughters, Gabrielle, Courtney and Madison, of whom they are very proud.
